Putting the Charlotte Future 2040 Plan Into Action

The first step to putting the Charlotte Future 2040 Comprehensive Plan into action is to translate the plan's "place-based" policies into a map which will be used in multiple decision-making processes.

The Charlotte Future 2040 Policy Map is a companion to the Charlotte Future 2040 Comprehensive Plan which represents the city's vision for the future. This map will be used to inform multiple decision-making processes like:

- Informing future zoning districts;
- Aligning future growth and mobility needs, and;
- Influencing selection of capital projects.

Within the next two years the Charlotte Future 2040 Policy Map will influence several key initiatives. These four initiatives will shape the future of Charlotte's built environment.

LAND USE + FORM

TRANSPORTATION

- 1 The 2040 Policy Map will inform the Unified Development Ordinance Mapping (tentatively scheduled for late 2022-2023)
- 2 The Charlotte Streets Map (anticipated for mid 2022) will provide the vision for how Charlotte's streets will evolve to serve all users and support the places shown on the Charlotte Future 2040 Policy Map.
- 3 The Charlotte Future 2040 Policy Map and the Charlotte Strategic Mobility Plan will inform one another. Together they will define and prioritize future mobility needs and investments throughout the city. The Charlotte Strategic Mobility Plan will be developed by 2022.
